What does fall mean to you?

So I went to my source of much information...the world wide web and found lots of answers.

Fall holds its own unique meaning for every individual. It could be the coming of cooler days to some. While others, think of tailgating and football. To the younger individuals, it means back to school. Those who are passionate about nature, enjoy this time of year. Something as simple as a season change, holds so many meanings to so many different individuals.

Falling Leaves

As fall begins, temperatures are slightly cooler. It creates a mood of content. The falling leaves are vibrant in colors of red, yellow, and orange. Children playing in the leaves for hours on end. Laughing and jumping in and out of the mounds, they feel where made just for them. People enjoy long walks in the park, or hiking in the mountains. The falling leaves convey a feeling of tranquility.

Football

One of our favorite pastimes, football starts in fall. Everyone looking forward to the start of football season. Pee Wee, Middle School, High School, College and Professional. Each with its own unique group of followers. With football season, comes tailgating at the college and professional levels. A time to socially network with people, and have fun. They enjoy the food, the company, the rivalry, all while wearing their favorite team colors. Good times for all involved.

Back to School

Children head back to the classroom, just prior to the start of fall. However, everyone associates fall with back to school. Children have mixed emotions during this time of year. (Some) hate classes and learning, but enjoy interacting with their friends. It's a time for social networking. They enjoy extracurricular activities. (Some) parents have mixed emotions, as well. Most parents are glad to see their children go back to school. Each have their own reasons, time to themselves, babysitting expenses, enjoyment of those extracurricular activities, and so much more! Fall brings fun, excitement, and peace to all involved.

Other Reflections of Fall

Families would gather to harvest crops. It's also known as apple-picking season. Halloween, a huge commercial event, occurs in October. One can find events such as Oktoberfest. An event, which is geared around the happenings of the season. Hay rides, pumpkin carving, corn mazes, food vendors, pumpkin or apple pie-eating contests, bobbing for apples, and many more events reflecting the time of year.

Fall Reflection

No matter what it means, it is a transitional time. It signifies the end of summer and the passage of winter. It's a reflection of all things relaxing, soothing, serene, vivid, flamboyant and vibrant.

11 Fall Pet Dangers to Avoid

Found at www.agway.com

The crisp chill of autumn (will soon be) upon us, that means changing leaves, cozy sweaters, and lots of holidays. But along with all that excitement comes some dangers for your adorable pooch or kitty.

Below are the top 11 fall pet dangers to avoid:

Antifreeze. Every year more than 10,000 dogs and cats are accidentally poisoned with automotive antifreeze. Pets are attracted to the sweet taste of ethylene glycol and a small amount is enough to poison your pet.

Allergies. Fall weather can bring about a whole new set of allergies for your pet. Ragweed and mold are two big aggravates, along with grass and dust. Look for signs of allergies like scratching, biting, chewing, sneezing, coughing, watery eyes, hives and rashes.

Arthritis. Cold weather can lead to arthritis caused by inflamed joints. If your dog or cat is limping, having trouble moving, jumping, or sitting, moving slower than usual, or whimpering when he moves, he may be suffering from seasonal arthritis.

Mushrooms. All mushrooms are toxic to dogs. Always watch for mushrooms in areas where you walk your dogs or where they run and play. Be especially cautious of parasol-shaped mushrooms and all small brown mushrooms. Symptoms of mushroom poisoning can range from mild vomiting and diarrhea to severe digestive problems to complete liver failure.

Compost pile. Your composts pile in your backyard is also dangerous to your pet. The decomposing organic material could contain mycotoxins that can cause hyperthermia, agitation, excessive panting or drooling, and even seizures.

Rodenticides. In fall and winter, mice and rats come flocking indoors to warmer surroundings. Putting out rodenticides will get rid of rodents but could also be fatal to your pet. There are four different types of poison and each has the potential to kill: anticoagulants, cholecalciferol, bromethalin, and phosphides.

Candy. Everyone knows chocolate is toxic to dogs, especially the baking variety, but so are raisins and the sugar-free sweetener xylitol. Be extra cautious on Halloween where pets can get into bags of candy. Wrappers and sticks from lollipops can also pose a threat causing intestinal blockages.

Thanksgiving. You may have the urge to share your yummy feast with your pet. Avoid feeding pets fat and fatty foods that can trigger pancreatitis in dogs and cats, and never feed your dog poultry bones. They easily splinter and break and can cause serious damage if swallowed.

Cold Weather. Chilly temps can also pose a threat to your pet. Indoor animals don't develop a thick double coat like outdoor pets and should not be left outside unattended for any period of time.

Consider buying a sweater for your dog for walks or booties to keep his paws safe from ice and rock salt. Also, be cautious around ice—your pet could easily slip and rip a ligament or break a bone.

Decorations. Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas decorations can all be dangerous to your pet. Ornaments, tinsel, plants, costumes, and other decorations should all be kept out of your pet's reach.

Plants. Although beautiful, some holiday plants are toxic. You should avoid holly, amaryllis, mistletoe, poinsettia, Christmas and Thanksgiving cactus, American and European bittersweet, chrysanthemum, Christmas rose, Jerusalem cherry, autumn crocus, and burning bush. These plants can cause vomiting, diarrhea, depression, lack of appetite, tremors, belly pain, difficulty breathing, shock, organ damage, slowed heart rate, collapse, and even death.

Fall Fire Safety Tips

Found at <http://safety/lovetoknow.com>

As summer turns to fall, it's a good idea to refresh your memory on fall fire safety tips. Some safety tips are the same regardless of the time of year, but many safety concerns are seasonal, particularly those that involve keeping your home warm.

Time Changes Mean Battery Changes

Get in the habit of changing the batteries in your smoke detectors and carbon monoxide detectors every fall and spring when changing the clocks for Daylight Savings Time. It is also a good idea to make it standard procedure in your household to verify that all fire extinguishers are fully charged and in working order when you adjust the clocks for the season.

Home Heating Tips

No matter what type of device you use to heat your home, making sure your heating devices and/or systems are in good working order is an important part of learning some fall fire safety tips. Many things can go wrong with heating equipment during the spring and summer months. Verify that everything you need to keep your home warm throughout fall and winter is in good working order before you experience the first cold snap of the season.

Central Heating System Safety Tips

- Get your central heating system cleaned, inspected and serviced by a certified HVAC (heating, venting and air conditioning) contractor every year before using it.
- If you have a gas heater, make sure that you have a sufficient quantity of fully functioning carbon monoxide detectors installed in your home.

Space Heater Safety Tips

- Make sure that any space heaters are surrounded by at least three feet (3') of empty space.

- Never place clothing or any other objects on a space heater to dry.
- Do not place space heaters near furniture or drapery.
- Turn space heaters off when you leave the house or go to bed.
- Avoid storing any combustible items near heaters.

Fireplace Safety Tips

- Get your chimney inspected each year to make sure that it is safe.
- Hire a chimney sweep to clean out your chimney every fall.
- Repair any cracks in fireplaces.
- Use fireplace screens to keep sparks and fire debris inside the fireplace.
- NEVER use gasoline to start a fire in the fireplace.
- Never leave a fire unattended.
- Make sure that combustible materials are not stored within three feet of your fireplace.
- For natural gas fireplaces, get all connections and lines inspected before use each season.
- Remember that outdoor fireplaces can be just as dangerous as indoor units, and observe all safety precautions when using them.

Outdoor Fall Fire Safety Tips

- Clear your roof and gutters of unnecessary build up of debris, such as pine needles and leaves.
- Learn the outdoor burning regulations in your area, and do not engage in illegal burning of leaves and other outdoor debris. (Note: the City of North Little Rock does NOT allow outdoor burning)

Fire Safety Tips for Holiday Decorations

- Do not use candles in Halloween Jack-o-lanterns. Flash lights are much safer (tea lights work great too!)
- Make sure children's costumes are made with fire retardant materials.
- Use fire retardant holiday decorations.
- Verify that all holiday lights and extension cords have been tested by an organization such as Factory Mutual or Underwriters Laboratory.

Family Fire Safety Tips

- Teach your kids how to respond in the event of a fire.
- Make sure young children know how to dial 9-1-1.
- Establish and practice a fire escape plan with your family that includes a designated meeting area outside the home.
- Practice "stop, drop and roll" with your children so they learn how to escape beneath (the smoke and) fire.
- Teach everyone in your family multiple ways to escape from every room in the event of fire.

- Make sure there is a sufficient quantity of smoke detectors in your home.
- Verify each month that smoke detectors are in working order.
- Make sure everyone in your family knows how to use a fire extinguisher.
- Do not place lit candles where they can be reached by children; never leave burning candles unattended; do not leave candles burning when you go to sleep.
- Do not leave cooking food unattended on the stove.
- Keep everything that might be flammable away from your stove.
- Make sure all flammable substances are properly stored in safe containers and out of reach of youngsters.

Safety Matters

There is nothing more important than the safety of your family. Everyone in your home needs to know how to behave responsibly to reduce the likelihood of experiencing a fire. However, because fires can start at any time without warning, it is also very important that the members of your household know how to react in the event of a fire. It's a good idea to review fire prevention and safety tips with your family every fall, and several other times throughout the year.

Cheap Halloween Decorations

Found at www.moneycrashers.com

Halloween brings out the kid in most of us. The air starts to cool, pumpkins appear on grocery store shelves, and before you know it, you've turned your front porch into a mad scientist's lab.

Just about every retailer offers some costumes, décor and party supplies. However, you don't have to spend your hard-earned money to decorate this Halloween.

Whether you throw a Halloween bash, or just want to impress the neighborhood trick-or-treaters, you can decorate on a budget. Many craft projects use reclaimed materials or items you already have in your home.

Backyard Cemetery

You can make grave stones for inside or outside your home.

1. Flatten several cardboard shipping boxes.
2. Use a Sharpie to draw tombstone shapes.

Make some rectangular, cross, and oval to give the graveyard some variety.

3. Cut the shapes out with scissors.
4. Paint the shapes a dark grey and allow paint to dry.
5. Once dry, add saying like "R.I.P" to the front of each. Glue a wood or plastic yard stake to the back to put it in the yard.

(Note: Blend white paint onto the edges of the tombstones, or glue some artificial moss, found in craft store, to make them look more aged and authentic.)

By using wood, you can partially waterproof the tombstones so they can be used for more than one season.

This project works well if you use thin pieces of composite wood which you can buy at any home improvement store. The thin pieces are easier to cut and stand up better in the grass.

Giant Spiders

You can transform a few black trash bags into a giant spider that fits on your front porch, or up in a tree.

1. You need nine black trash bags and stuffing such as newspaper, left over packing materials or even leaves.

2. Fill one trash bag with stuffing and tie it closed to create the spider's body.
3. Hold the second bag on its side and fill the length with stuffing.

4. Wrap the empty bag around the stuffing several times, so that it looks like a spider's arm, and secure it with a tie. Repeat this for the other seven legs.

5. Use a glue gun to secure the legs to the body. (You can cut off the bottom of Styrofoam cups and glue them onto the body to make eyes.)

Ghost-Lit Walkway

If you have a collection of milk jugs in the recycling bin, you can create a ghost-lit walkway that your trick-or-treaters will love. Look online to get inspirations for designing the ghosts faces. The Scream Mask makes an instantly recognizable, scary ghost face that you can easily replicate on your milk jugs.

1. For this project, you need several milk jugs, some black construction paper, and enough artificial candles to fill the jugs.
2. Wash and dry each jug.
3. Once dry, use a knife to cut a small hole in the bottom of each jug (this is where you will insert the tea light).
4. Make ghost faces for each jug by cutting out a pair of eyes and mouth from the black construction paper.
5. Turn the jug so the handle faces the back. Glue the faces onto the front of the jug and place your artificial candle inside.
6. Line the jugs along your walkway and turn the candles on. The jugs light up, illuminating the faces and the walkway.

(You can use white Christmas lights to light up the ghosts. Line the ghosts along the pathway, and insert a handful of the string of lights inside each jug. If wind is an issue, you may want to put some sand or gravel in the jug to weight it).

Obituary

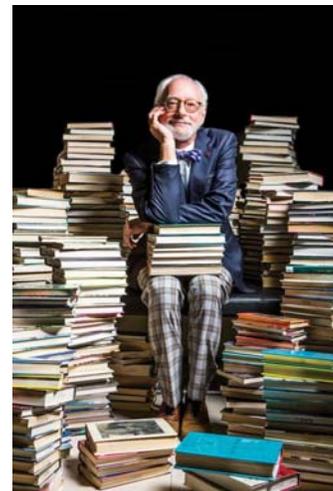

Jeffrey Lee Baskin—August 2, 1947—September 9, 2014

Longtime North Little Rock Laman Library Director Jeff Baskin died September 9, 2014. He was 67. He was born in New York City to Bernard and Muriel Baskin.

After returning to New York from the Vietnam War in 1969, he enrolled in C. W. Post College where he graduated with a masters degree in library sciences. In 1976, Jeff and his wife Susan Weinstein moved to Little Rock after he was recruited to help expand UAMS' library. He joined Laman Library as director in 1987.

Jeff was an active leader of his Synagogue Agudath Achim and often lead services. He was also a founding member of the Argenta Arts Council and dedicated substantial energy to developing the Argenta area of North Little Rock. Jeff also collected, bought and sold antiquarian books and paper. He enjoyed traveling around the world with his wife, reading and fishing and a good cigar. His visions, energy, enthusiasm, and sense of humor will be missed by all who knew him.

He leaves behind wife Susan and three children, Bernie, Meredith and Danny.

North Little Rock Police Athletic League

In 2014, PAL had 383 players sign up for baseball, 88 players for football, 20 for cheerleading, 30 for tennis and over 40 for Taekwondo. All youth participated free! PAL provided participants with uniforms and equipment and maintains 11 ball fields at 3 city parks (including mowing, field prep, etc.). In recent years, PAL has spent over $30k in player equipment and programs and $15k on insurance and other expenses. The program relies on donations. Throughout the year these are received as donations and through concession stand sales. The main fundraiser is the Annual Halloween fundraiser. This event has evolved over the years with hauntings at various locations throughout the city. This year's Haunted High School may be one of the scariest and most fun yet!

Help spread the word! Dates are Oct 9-11, 16-18, 23-25, 27-30 from 7 p.m.—11 p.m.

Admission is only $10.

For more information, contact PAL Director Ryan Osborne at 501-295-1906.

Recipe from Sunday Dinner at Grandma's Cookbook

Sunday Chicken Casserole

- 3 to 4 chicken breasts
- 6-oz pkg herb-flavored stuffing mix
- 1/2 c. margarine, melted
- 10 3/4 oz can cream of chicken soup
- 16 oz container sour cream
- 1/4 c. dill pickle, chopped
- 1 white onion, chopped

In a large stockpot over medium heat, cover chicken with water. Cook until chicken juices run clear, 20 to 25 minutes. Drain chicken, reserving 1 3/4 cups broth. Let chicken cool. Cut into bite-size pieces, discard skin and bones; set aside. Toss stuffing mix with melted margarine until moistened. Spread half mixture in lightly greased 11"x8" baking pan; place chicken on top. Blend reserved broth, soup and sour cream until smooth; fold in pickle and onion. Pour over chicken; cover with remaining stuffing mix. Bake, uncovered, at 350° for 20 to 30 minutes, until bubbly. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Serves 6.
